CRESTON HIGH SCHOOL

Unlike the traditional one-room red schoolhouse of yesteryear, the building in which we come to do our readin', writin', and 'rithmetic is of blonde brick and possesses classrooms, shops, a cafe, a band room, and an auditorium.

Instead of having 30 to 40 pupils pursuing the three R's of knowledge, approximately 1700 students select their course while each June about 200 graduates leave Creston's doors to make their way in the world.

SAGA

Foreword

To forget for a few minutes all the present day strife and havoc and to recall those "good old days" so often referred to by our grandfathers, we the Saga Staff of 1942 have taken as our theme the days of "the tandem bicycle" when Pa's mustache cup was modish and Ma proudly displayed her ostrich plumed hat.

Our head master, Mr. Howard Wickett, principal, who stands by to guide and direct either the students or happenings within our school. In the five years he has been with us we have never found a more sunny smile, willing hand, or helpful man than he.

Dedication

To Mr. Roy Perce, who as Creston's wood shop instructor, has won many friends both among the students and faculty.

His winning smile and cheerful manner make him everybody's pal, for he is one grand fellow!

Top: Mr. Perce engages in his hobby of working in his wood shop.

Bottom: The correct way to do it is displayed by our woodshop instructor.

The 1942 Senior Class

The customary day of relaxation for the dignified, known as "Goons' Holiday," was again carried out, students appearing in traditional garb.

With the Junior Senior Prom held on May 23, followed by Class Day activities on June 5 and graduation ceremonies on June 11, the class of 1942 made a dignified exit from the portals of Creston High School.

At the beginning of the fall semester the senior class elections were held. The following people were elected: Gerald Dupler, president; Rolland Van Hattum, vice president; Donna Deweerd, secretary; Irving Sullivan, treasurer.

To represent the senior class at the Winter Carnival Barbara Scharlow was chosen and Connie Ingersoll was indidate for Queen of Inter-High Presidents' Ball.

On March 11, 12, 13 the senior class presented a play Ever Since Eve.

The annual Smorgashbord was held May 1. The music was furnished by Frank Winegar and his orchestra.

The class of '42 chose as its motto, "Succeed: We Can We Must" and endeavored to carry this theme into its activities. Maroon and white were the class colors. Chairmen of the committees to select these were Robert Stellema and Ed Jensen. The class song was written by Beverly Van Wingen and Jack Chalmers.

The Junior Class

Following the usual custom, the Junior Class of '43 began their eventful year with an election of officers. Voted into office as president was Charles Allen; vice president, Glorya Drake; secretary, Bee Beuker, and treasurer, Ben Mol.

To begin its activities, the class sponsored several dances after basketball games.

With Charles Harrison acting as master of ceremonies, the Junior Amateur Hour was presented on February 18. The purpose of this show was to raise money for the traditional Revue.

The annual Junior Revue was given on April 9th and 10th. The various dances, which were open to the whole school, together with the brief skits, limited to Juniors only, made this presentation a great success.

Winding up the year's cycle of events, Junior-Senior Prom was held in May with the Juniors acting as hosts.

Junior Revue

On April 8, 9 and 10, the Junior Class sponsored the Junior Revue to raise funds for the Junior-Senior Prom.

Among the picturesque skits was "Do You Remember" in which Pat Blackburn, Doris Schestag, Beverly Howe, Donna Mulder, and Beverly Anderson sing several old favorites.

Another song, "Wear and Tear" featured a style show in which many Junior Class boys modeled. He Married Our Neighbor and I Loved me to Death featuring Charles Day, Betty Datsow, Harry Linder, Norm Jacobitz, Phil Gordon and Rose Hendricks.

The scope who made this Revue possible were our Junior Class advisers Mr. Jay J. Rees, Miss Lois Conrad, who directed the skits, and Junior Class president Charles Allen. Also, the cooperation of the Junior Class helped put the Revue over with a bang.

Mr. Teete said: "It was the best Junior Revue ever put on by any Junior Class."

Senior Play

"Ever Since Eve" was the play chosen for presentation by the seniors this year.

Given on March 1 and 15 "Ever Since Eve" was a modern story centered around two young high school students in charge of the school newspaper. When the new assistant editor turned out to be a girl, the boys looked for complications.

Cast for the play was as follows: Dorothy Menden as Mrs. Cover, Gerald Dupler as Mr. Cover, Ronald Van Hatten as Johnny Cover, Bob Ferguson as Spud Irwin, Joan Hogan as Sarah Blake, Sally Lamb as Miss White, Mary Fern Smith as Jessy Irwin, Betty Vander Lende as Gappy, Ed Dwyer as Henry Quinn, Ric Steers as Tony Beck, and Don Goodrich as Preston Hughes.

Gloria

The lights burned soft and low, viewed the audience in a spirit of deep reverence. The sacred Christmas pageant "Gloria" was presented on December 17, 1911, to Creston students, their parents, and their friends.

Through the coordination of the cappella choir directed by Mr. Frank Goodwin and the dramatics department, headed by Miss Edna Conner, the Christmas story now being told to Creston was again portrayed.

Scenes of dramatic interest were the prodigal, when the angels were read by the chanting priest and the manger scene in which the shepherd Judah Simon, Elizabeth the sheep herds, and the shepherds kneeling before Mary, Joseph and the infant Jesus.

Songs sung from the program were "The Virgins Forty" and "Sweetest Song of the Infant Jesus."

Leading the cast were Rolland Van Hatten as Satan, Edna Conner as Father, Betty DeKor as Elizabeth, Conner herself as the Madonna, and Gerald Dapert as Joseph.

The One-Act Plays

Something new was added when four one-act plays instead of the customary three were presented by the dramatics classes, under the direction of Miss Lois Conrad, in the auditorium on November 27 and 28.

Looking for leading roles in "Who Gets the Car Tonight," a domestic comedy, were: Barbara Scherf as Mary White, Fredrick as Paul Ruth Jones as Mrs. Jones, Robert Foster as Mr. Jones, and Dale Lothamer as Jack.

Playing in "Dust of the Road," a drama, were Norma Stinson as Prudence Steele, Edward Dryer, Peter, Charles Peterlein as uncle, and Marvin Geldersma as the tramp.

The cast for "The Still Alarm," a satire, consisted of Gerald Dupler and Norman Addington as the two Englishmen, Don De Young as the policeman, and Maurice Taylor and Merce Taylor as the two firemen.

In the play "Clay Creek," Don Stage was the sheriff, Kiku No Hana, Kiku No Hana, Rolland Van Hattum, Kihuet Bona, Jack Chalmers, Kihu Mun Chang, rich suitor, Don Hillis, Connie Ingersoll, Kwan Yen, Goddess of Love.

Footlights Club

First Footing class party of the year was an alumnae box luncheon at the home of Dorothy Jackman. Theme of the luncheon was some phase of the theater and each new member brought a box for both herself and an old member.

Miss Conrad, sponsor, was next hostess. After dinner the girls attended a presentation of "Stage Door Canteen" at the Hollywood Theatre.

Other dinners were held at the home of Rae Elaine Sears where an exchange of gifts was made and New Years was celebrated and at Devon Gables Tea Room followed by attendance of the Civic Player's production, Elizabeth the Queen.

This year's club was the first group to order individual pins showing Footlights membership.

relies Club organized early in the fall and elected the following officers: president Virginia Klap, vice presi dent Betty De Korne, secretary and treasurer, Barbara Day.

1. The first part of the paper is devoted to the study of the asymptotic behavior of the solutions of the system of equations (1) as  $\epsilon \rightarrow 0$ . It is shown that the solutions of the system (1) converge to the solutions of the system (2) in the sense of the weak convergence in the space  $L^2(\Omega; \mathbb{R}^n)$ .

2. In the second part of the paper, the asymptotic expansion of the solutions of the system (1) is constructed. It is shown that the asymptotic expansion of the solutions of the system (1) has the form where  $u^0, u^1, u^2, \dots$  are the solutions of the system of equations (2).

$$u^\epsilon = u^0 + \epsilon u^1 + \epsilon^2 u^2 + \dots,$$

3. In the third part of the paper, the asymptotic expansion of the solutions of the system (1) is used to study the asymptotic behavior of the solutions of the system (1) as  $\epsilon \rightarrow 0$ . It is shown that the solutions of the system (1) converge to the solutions of the system (2) in the sense of the weak convergence in the space  $L^2(\Omega; \mathbb{R}^n)$ .

4. In the fourth part of the paper, the asymptotic expansion of the solutions of the system (1) is used to study the asymptotic behavior of the solutions of the system (1) as  $\epsilon \rightarrow 0$ . It is shown that the solutions of the system (1) converge to the solutions of the system (2) in the sense of the weak convergence in the space  $L^2(\Omega; \mathbb{R}^n)$ .

5. In the fifth part of the paper, the asymptotic expansion of the solutions of the system (1) is used to study the asymptotic behavior of the solutions of the system (1) as  $\epsilon \rightarrow 0$ . It is shown that the solutions of the system (1) converge to the solutions of the system (2) in the sense of the weak convergence in the space  $L^2(\Omega; \mathbb{R}^n)$ .

6. In the sixth part of the paper, the asymptotic expansion of the solutions of the system (1) is used to study the asymptotic behavior of the solutions of the system (1) as  $\epsilon \rightarrow 0$ . It is shown that the solutions of the system (1) converge to the solutions of the system (2) in the sense of the weak convergence in the space  $L^2(\Omega; \mathbb{R}^n)$ .

7. In the seventh part of the paper, the asymptotic expansion of the solutions of the system (1) is used to study the asymptotic behavior of the solutions of the system (1) as  $\epsilon \rightarrow 0$ . It is shown that the solutions of the system (1) converge to the solutions of the system (2) in the sense of the weak convergence in the space  $L^2(\Omega; \mathbb{R}^n)$ .

8. In the eighth part of the paper, the asymptotic expansion of the solutions of the system (1) is used to study the asymptotic behavior of the solutions of the system (1) as  $\epsilon \rightarrow 0$ . It is shown that the solutions of the system (1) converge to the solutions of the system (2) in the sense of the weak convergence in the space  $L^2(\Omega; \mathbb{R}^n)$ .

9. In the ninth part of the paper, the asymptotic expansion of the solutions of the system (1) is used to study the asymptotic behavior of the solutions of the system (1) as  $\epsilon \rightarrow 0$ . It is shown that the solutions of the system (1) converge to the solutions of the system (2) in the sense of the weak convergence in the space  $L^2(\Omega; \mathbb{R}^n)$ .

10. In the tenth part of the paper, the asymptotic expansion of the solutions of the system (1) is used to study the asymptotic behavior of the solutions of the system (1) as  $\epsilon \rightarrow 0$ . It is shown that the solutions of the system (1) converge to the solutions of the system (2) in the sense of the weak convergence in the space  $L^2(\Omega; \mathbb{R}^n)$ .

Orchestra

With Mr. Joel Lowe as director our orchestra plays regularly for Georgia and our town once a year.

The Woodwind Quartet composed of orchestra members: Ed Alright playing the flute; Jean Warren playing the oboe; Kathryn Starn playing the clarinet; and Jack Elmore playing the bassoon was selected to perform at the concert.

On April 25, the Music Night at Georgia the orchestra entertained music lovers with the concert "New Moon." Also the orchestra participated in the Orchestra Festival.

The Cotton Band

Playing peppy music at the football and basketball games was one of the helpful activities of our band. The band, under the direction of Mr. Joel Lowe, also played at several pep broadcasts over station W.L.A.V. Another activity was their playing at the annual Golden Gloves Tournament. One of the many parades in which they marched was the Armistice Day Parade. Besides participating in the all-city band tournament, our band was featured at the Spring Concert, April 23rd.

It appeared in the city-wide parade held during clean-up week to encourage the collection of Salvage. The pictured players, J. Hall and J. Blymier, right, and E. Albright, K. Starn, J. Watrous, and F. Pleune, below, won first division honors in the all-city music tournament.

The A Capella Choir

This year the A Cappella choir sang over station WOOD and WLAV for the benefit of the Red Cross. When Grace Fields, the English Comedienne appeared at the Civic Auditorium the choir was invited to sing as part of the program. Also, during Navy Day, while men were being recruited at the Civic Auditorium the choir lent their voices in singing the National Anthem. The Spring Concert to the ing Creston's A Cappella choir was one of the highlights of their season. Under the directorship of Mr. Frank Goodwin, our choir has been taught the fundamentals of singing in a chorus. Ben Mol, president; Marvin Flanders, vice president; Joan Hogue, secretary and Irving Sullivan, treasurer, were the officers selected by the choir members.

Debate

Resolved: That every able bodied male citizen in the United States should be required to have one year of full-time military training before attaining the present draft age." This was the question at issue during debates with South, Muskegon High, Christian, and East Lansing High.

Although it won no debates the team under the guidance of Miss Betsy Lightner, their new coach, who replaced Mr. Merle Dawson, gained much experience.

Forensics

At the district Forensic Contest held here April 14, Creston was highly honored in having several of its students first in the contests.

Winning first in the dramatic declamation contest was Mary Ellen Smith, who offered "Wuthering Heights." "There was a man" was the title of Margaret McMann's winning oratorical declamation.

Also participating in the dramatic declamation contest was Vivian Dent, a Creston Junior who spoke on "An American Citizen."

Marvin Geldersma represented Creston in oratory and Charles Day in extempore speaking.

Officers Parliamentary Club

Sponsored by Miss Margaret Appelt, the Presidents Club was organized to instruct presidents and vice presidents in the correct procedure of Parliamentary Law. This however is only half of the club's activities. To build up the treasury, the club sponsored different sales. Parties held at the home of their sponsor, Miss Appelt, and other club members were also given. The latest act passed was a resolution to change the name of the Presidents Club to the Officers Parliamentary Club. Membership in this club now includes all the club officers instead of just presidents.

Officers of the club are: president, I. Sullivan; vice president, Betty Lou Vestveer; secretary and treasurer, Keitha Harmon.

Senior Girl Reserves

"I will try to be gracious in manner, impartial in judgment, ready for service—" recited the ring of the Senior Girl Reserves at the annual candle-light service, held on September 24. First semester elections resulted in Virginia Klap as president; Mary Ellen Smith, vice president; Betty De Korne, secretary; and Rosena Lamphear, treasurer.

Spreads with the Hi-Y boys, participating in the Hanging of the Greens Ceremony at the Y W C A., holding a world fellowship week service, and joining the city-wide Ring Girls group kept the Girl Reserves busy.

Sent to the annual conference at Jackson, Michigan, were Dorothy Klap and Louise Howard, who returned with several ideas for games and group activities.

Hikes as well as in-door activities were among their activities.

Leading the club the second semester were Virginia Klap, president; Helen Roberts, vice president; Betty De Korne, secretary; and Millie Klompars, treasurer.

Junior Girl Reserves

A good start for the year was the getting acquainted party given by the Junior Girl Reserves, before the new officers were elected. Those chosen to lead the club were: president, Joyce Rodamer; vice-president, Elaine Dryer; secretary, Barbara Leary; and treasurer, Elaine Molinski.

Many and varied were the activities of the Reserves, but two of the most outstanding were beading, necklaces from broomsticks, and making tray favors for scarlet-fever victims.

Not to be out-done by the Senior Girl Reserves, the juniors sent a good number of representatives to both the Hanging of the Greens Ceremony and the Annual Banquet, both held at the Y W C A.

Second semester officers were: Elaine Dryer as president; Mary Daney as vice-president; Eleanor McClain, secretary; and treasurer, Betty Jacholtz.

Along with the Junior Girl Reserves from other city high schools the Creston club sponsored a booth on cosmetics and a posture queen for the Health Fair, also held at the Y W C A.

Student Council

Under the sponsorship of Miss Eness the Student Council has had a busy year. In addition to the regular work of school government the group organized an assembly which was exchanged with other schools, sponsored Courtesy Week and an Inter-High Ping-Pong Tournament and held ice cream sales.

The Student Council members and their advisors, Miss Eness and Miss Windt, are shown in the photograph above. The group is composed of students from various grades, and they are all dedicated to improving the school environment.

Courtesy Squad

By having students stationed at desks throughout the halls each period, the Courtesy Squad, sponsored by Miss Windt, and assisted by co-chairmen Marvin Geldersma and Tom Lootens, stresses as does the Student Council, good student government.

The seven student managers for each hour were: 1. Bud Van Eck, 2. Roger Bullock, 3. Ben Mellema, 4. James Hulsapple, 5. Ivan Lawyer, 6. Ned Stuts, 7. D. O. Stuck.

Camera Club

To broaden their knowledge of photography, and to better their art of taking and printing pictures, is the purpose of the Camera Club, sponsored by Mr. Gerrit Wassenaar.

Taking pictures for the Saga and Echo and enlarging students' pictures has kept this group occupied most of the year.

Most of the members have built their own dark rooms and equipped them in their own homes.

Officers for the first semester were: Charles Perry, president; Bob Smith, vice president; Bob Lynch, secretary; and Bill Patterson, treasurer.

Boys' Science Club

The members of the Boys' Science Club and their sponsor, Mr. Walter Wood, visited many educational institutions. Among these were the airport, where they learned about the work connected with weather and radio, the Michigan Bakery, where they saw the whole bread-making process; the Filtration Plant; and Ford Paint Factory.

To reinforce the treasury, the Boys' Science Club sponsored hot dog sales.

Every fourth Wednesday they went bowling for outside activity.

Saga

The Good Old Golden Rule Days" is the theme carried out in this year's Saga.

Avoid that last minute rush get 'em there on time," was the motto of the staff, headed by Frank Andrews, editor-in-chief. To accomplish this, the staff began their work, such as choosing the theme, very early in the school year.

Major divisions were planned as follows: "Old Opera House," which includes all dramatic and musical activities and productions, "Little Red School House" containing the Senior and under-class pictures. The "Town Hall" consisting of civic activities; "General Store," under which all other clubs are presented; and "Ye Olde Gym" for athletics.

Echo

Greater efficiency seems to be the keynote of success these days, and, not to be behind the times, the Echo staff made some drastic revisions. The former managing editor was promoted to Editor-in-Chief, with the duty of coordinating all efforts of other editors. Advanced to the vacated position of managing editor was the news editor, and so it went, down to the last copy reader.

As is the custom, the annual Subscription Campaign was opened with an assembly featuring a brief, humorous skit followed by the introduction of the publication staffs.

Another huge undertaking was assumed by this year's staff when they volunteered as host to the Inter-staff Banquet, a city-wide high school affair, held here on March 31. The campaign skit was again presented to show other schools why Creston subscription list is the largest in the city.

Societas Latina

The motto of the Latin Club of Creston High School is "Non Scholae sed vita cognoscimus" which translated means "Not for school we learn but for life."

Sponsored by Mrs. Sadie Stowell and Mrs. Louise Verdier, the club began the year by selling armbands to be worn by the football enthusiasts. The annual Christmas Party was held December 12, 1941, in the girls gym. Exchanging gifts, dancing, and enjoying refreshments provided the entertainment.

The club has both social and business meetings, to make it possible for all to participate. It was organized by those students who have taken or are taking second year Latin.

Creston R.O.T.C.

The new units organized this last year at Creston consist of companies G and H. Each company has four girl sponsors, who drill and are graded with the company in inspection. Three inspections were held besides the federal inspection, commonly known as Field Day, when all the companies in the city competed against each other on May 29, at 6:30 P.M. The best company, squad, commissioned officer, non-commissioned officer, and private in competition received recognition. The first public appearance of the Creston units was in the Armistice Day Parade. Both companies participated and marched from lower Monroe to Fulton Street Park.

An annual dance is sponsored by the members of the R.O.T.C. units and is called the military ball. This year the ball was held at Union High School, November 15.

Football

Now comes the time when the performances of Creston's football athletes lie behind them, and their future in obscurity. As we sit and gloat over the brilliancy of their deeds, many more of those fond memories arise and seem to once again take their place in the lime light of the sports parade.

For instance, there is the impressive way in which our varsity squad concentrated their football barrage against the stern competition for city league laurels.

Two road trips for the team resulted in a 0-0 deadlock at Holland, and a decisive 25-0 thumping from the big Muskegon Reds. This experience, plus the able coaching of Martin Van Wingen caused the Polar Bears to turn loose an attack against Ottawa which won them their first city encounter, 7-0. Joe Noorthoek returned the ball on a kick by Horn for the tally.

A luckless Central squad was the victim of a 12-6 count as the Bears made it two straight.

The Home-Coming game with the Tech Wildcats found the Creston pass attack clicking for the winning seven points margin.

Futile attempts were made to halt the Catholic powerhouse against whom Creston's lone tally in the 13-6 count was made by Bob Harrison on an off-tackle play.

The Polar Bears absorbed their second league loss 13-0 when the Red Hawks of Union trampled the north-enders in their attempt to emerge as city champs.

A 26-12 thumping was received in the season finale against South.

Creston's lone candidate on the all-city squad was fluid motion Joe Noorthoek, stellar back.

Basketball

Crows are again plentiful for current season of the year by comparison with a string of hard frozen spots. They therefore are in a state of terms who possessed too many for get and were under to pick up a second victory of seven encounters after when they pick pay territory against a flock, last Central region for the 18-3 victory.

The second and never a single victory came for the Cristeros when they fought South Hughes in 1930. In a great push and pull, and rough contest, they defeated him, but the reason

As the new law came within three months of the start of the new year, it was expected that the Government would have to make some changes with the business of the country.

Baseball

With a team composed almost entirely of juniors, Coach Henry Schrupp led his nine through a successful season.

In the season's starter against Catholic, the Bears showed a weakness at the plate, losing 6-2. Against Union, Creston was on the short end of a 8-3 count, but later a possible forfeit was considered due to the play of an over-age player on the Union nine.

Van Luyn displayed some cool, air-tight pitching when the Bears defeated Ottawa 5-3 at Briggs. The thrill game of the season was the Tech game, when Ed Stefaniak hit a homer in the seventh inning with Jensen on base, and a tie score.

The team met each school's nine twice during the course of the season.

Steady hurlers for the team were Larson, Van Luyn, and Turpening. Ed Stefaniak, Charles Harrison, Jensen and Larson were the only members lost through graduation.

Golf

Six prospective mashie wielders dug up the greensward at Kent Country Club in answer to Coach Walter Woods call to represent the Polar Bears on the links.

The team consisted of Captain Miller, Byrnes, and Roberts, with Toot Schad, and Dukes trying for the number four spot.

They started the current season by meeting Christian's golfers at Highland, and closing with play in the regional and state contests.

Tennis

Coach Robert Linden had a nucleus of four returning members from last year's squad to build his 1912 tennis team around.

In their first encounter against the Ottawa Indians, the netmen were bolstered by the performances of Marvin Flanders, Dave Peterson, and Alva Oslin.

The entire team will remain intact for next year, except Flanders, who has been lost through graduation.

The Annual

Using as a theme: "Keep Fit for Victory," the annual Girl's Meet unfolded before cheering throngs the evening of April 16, 1942, in the E. C. Buss gymnasium immediately after a select group of girls, picked for posture, had formed an immense V and took part in the short but vigorous calisthenics.

In a spirit of friendly competition and sportsmanship, the girls of each grade took part in the various activities, including relays, folk dances, stunts, and the colorful American square dance, climaxed by the presentation of the cups to the managers of the jubilant seniors and eighth graders by Mrs. Enright, supervisor of the physical education department. Flowers were presented to Mrs. Griffin and Mrs. Butterfield for their efforts at making the meet a success. At the conclusion of the activities, the audience patriotically joined the tired but happy girls in the singing of our National

Girls' Meet

Anthem while the flag of the United States was carried before them as an inspiration

One of the main objectives of the years' sports program is that of sportsmanship. An excellent example of this was the applause given the winning squads by the losing teams

Mr. Robert Teele, Creston mathematics teacher, was the official score keeper, assisted by Virginia Miller, Shirley Johnson, Barbara Clay, Lois Johnson, and Bernice Sorenson, all former Creston students who graciously returned to act as judges

The entire meet was in charge of the small but dynamic Betty Zeldam. She had as helpers the following managers: Ruth Niehaus, senior; Millie Klompatsen, junior; Joan Marquardt, sophomore; Connie Alvers, ninth grade; Peggy Empie, eighth grade; and Yvonne Shrump and Patricia Palmatier, seventh grade

Aurora Borealis

The Aurora Borealis Club began a successful year with the election of officers: Betty Zeldam as president; Joan Hogue, vice president; and Anna Vander Jagt, secretary-treasurer.

Under the direction of the officers, and with the help of their sponsor, Mrs. Bruce Griffin, the club was active in the pursuit of both pleasure and business. A hayride was held for the members and their guests, at Hannon's farm, December 13. This was followed by an ice cream sandwich sale to help raise money for the annual girls meet. On March 2 Mrs. Griffin held a spread at her home for the chairmen of the various activities in the meet and on April 16 this entertaining event was held.

Aside from these club undertakings, individual groups have participated in hikes, skating parties, picnics, and various other enjoyable sports.

With their motto "Hike to Health" and under the energetic direction of Miss Jennie James, the Hikers Club opened their activities in September with an initiation party which resulted in a comical sight along Plainfield Avenue'

As for the officers of the first semester, the club chose Pat Parsaca, president, Dot Frazier vice president; Margaret Vander Hoff, secretary; and Lucille Brown, treasurer.

Turning to the second semester, the following elections were made: president, Betty Westveer; vice president, Connie Hall; secretary, Dot Keres; and treasurer, Lucille Brown.

Under these leaders the club held a Hallowe'en party at school, prepared Thanksgiving baskets for the needy, enjoyed many potlucks, hiked in the cold, wintry out-of doors and climaxed their activities with a Christmas celebration.
